What do you sell?

Almost anything. We sell real estate and personal property, machinery, tools, vehicles, and equipment. We also handle business liquidations and farm dispersals.

Why should I sell my property at auction instead of some other way?

The auction method of marketing is a time honored way to achieve full market value for your assets in an efficient manner. Bidders compete to see who is willing to pay the most. You get to decide when the property sells and what the terms of the sale will be.

How do you charge?

Mountain Valley Auctions generally operates on a commission basis. Commissions are deducted from the proceeds of the sale. There is usually no up front or out of pocket expenses paid by the seller. Each auction has a different commission structure based on the quality and quantity of assets to be sold. Contact us for a free consultation after which we can provide you with a detailed proposal.

What types of auctions do you do?

We conduct live in person auctions, online only auctions, or simulcast live and online auctions depending on your needs and logistics of the auction.

What should I do before I call Mountain Valley Auctions?

Call us early in the process. We might be able to save you a lot of unnecessary work. And please don't throw anything away or sell any items until we have had an opportunity to consult with you about values and strategies to get the best results for you.

How long does an auction take?

The whole process from the time you first contact us until you get a check in your hands can be as short as one month or as long as a couple months depending on the kinds of assets you are selling and the time frame you are working with. The sooner you contact us the better, so we can get you on our schedule.

What makes Mountain Valley Auction Group different from other auction companies?

Exceptional marketing makes us stand out in the marketplace. We know how to reach bidders and buyers for any asset and present your property in a way that encourages participation in the auction.
